About

I provide training and mentorship to students in the early years of IT. I have a good skill set in various programming languages and I am always eager to learn new things and explore more efficient working methods. I take online courses, attend specialized institutes, and share tutorials on my YouTube channel for beginners. I have over 1250 followers on Telegram, consisting mainly of students. Currently, I am focusing on web development and have made significant progress in frontend development. Once I complete my web development journey, I will begin training and mentoring students in this field.

Web Developer.

I am a graduate of a computer institute specializing in software programming. Currently, I am in my third year of a bachelor's degree in Information Technology.

the future

I am aiming to become a full stack web developer proficient in front-end development using the Vue.js framework and back-end development using Laravel. Additionally, I intend to establish a programming team dedicated to the development and training of students who lack the ability to lead themselves or enter the job market in various fields.
